P. Diddy—Busted; and Hollywood is cringing

As many of us know, Sean “Diddy” Combs (a.k.a.-P. Diddy) has been arrested and indicted with sex trafficking, prostitution, kidnapping, bribery, obstruction of justice, and racketeering charges. This “secret Indictment,” which is just one, of hundred of thousands still remaining, has opened up a “can of worms.” This event has the size and scope of becoming another version of the Jeffrey Epstein scandal, except with one major difference; Jeffrey Epstein had an attraction for women and under-aged girls, whereas P.Diddy seems to have a penchant for men and under-aged boys.

The potential of this event “escalating in disclosures” of many very rich, popular, and well respected leaders in the field of business, music, sports, entertainment, and politics is palpable! This indictment has “implications” of incriminating many successful entertainers, business leaders, and politicians by revealing their very horrifically sick and perverse activities that were secretly filmed with adults and children—some so young that they are considered toddlers!

Lebron James is quoted as saying; “Hey, everybody know, ain’t no party like a Diddy party”—and he would know—since he is also “suspected by association” as an attendee to these drug-fueled “Freak off” orgy parties with underaged women. The debauchery that took place was unbelievable and everything was filmed from different angles that seemed impossible for a camera to be placed. In some of the footage you can hear P. Diddy saying nefarious comments to a young Justin Bieber; or in 2016 Howard Stern interviewed Usher who revealed unsettling and disturbing details about P. Diddy when living with him at age 14. But this is how P. Diddy controlled, coerced, and manipulated many of the high profile individuals he interacted with.

His circle of friends include popular names like Will Smith, Ashton Kutcher and Cuba Gooding Jr. Demi Moore, and these are just a few of the many names on his list he had relationships with and/or business partnerships,—like billionaire investor Ron Burkle and hedge fund manager, Ray Dalio. Even Mark Wahlberg partnered with Diddy to launch a drinking water brand. And that’s not all—Barack Obama was known to “hang” with Diddy after leaving the Presidency.

This has also led to a rash of resignations by many business leaders that may have had some association with P. Diddy—all within a 24 hour period (Link below for additional information by CNN). Men like, Kevin Liles (Music executive), Eric Pryor (President of Fine Arts), Robert B. Davis (G.M. of Martha’s Vineyard), to mention a few. And clearly, if they are “performing” on any of these “Black-Mail” video’s, it’s understandable they would want to take opportunity for an early retirement and disappear into the “wood-work.” Frankly, more than half of Hollywood is probably “sweating bullets,” knowing they might be on one or more of those movie videos.

Look, everyone knows, “caged birds” will sing and often times that will attract more attention and in this case, we hope; more caged birds! So, we will see if he survives while in jail because coincidentally, he is in the Brooklyn Metropolitan Detention Center, which housed Jeffery Epstein and his partner, Ghislaine Maxwell. So, stay tuned, as this ongoing saga continues to unfold with additional disclosures of P. Diddy’s abusive perverted lifestyle and perhaps, enormous career destroying embarrassment, for those participants, in this evil and depraved degeneracy!
